

Finance Director – Europe, Middle East and Africa

Competitive salary + excellent benefits • West London

Buena Vista Home Entertainment

Buena Vista Home Entertainment (BVHE) is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Walt Disney Company. As part of Walt Disney Studios, BVHE distributes and markets video and DVD products from Walt Disney Pictures, Touchstone Pictures, Hollywood Pictures and Miramax.

Working within the European Regional Office (ERO) of Buena Vista Home Entertainment, this role is central to the commercial and financial development of Disney's DVD and other home entertainment new technology products across EMEA. As part of the ERO finance team based in London, you will have significant interaction with ERO senior management, marketing and commercial planning as well as with the finance teams in each territory.

Responsibilities include implementing and maintaining effective financial reporting, systems and controls including accurate forecasting and market performance evaluations. You will drive capital and margin maximisation initiatives that safeguard the financial structure of BVHE. In partnering the international, regional and local operational executives, you will create and implement strategies to include growth initiatives such as new technologies, formats, markets and distribution channels, and sales/commercial planning and pricing.

The ideal candidate will have strong financial and exceptional analytical skills and a proven track record of adding commercial value. You will be assertive, flexible, influential cross-culturally and have experience working in a multinational business, preferably within the FMCG and/or entertainment market. This role is suitable for individuals with minimum 6 years' commercial experience, although candidates from outside of this range will be considered if they can demonstrate the necessary competencies.
