

Corporate Accounting Manager

c.£47,000 + car allowance and excellent benefits

Johnson Matthey

Johnson Matthey is a truly global, FTSE 100 speciality chemicals company with 7,700 employees operating out of over 30 countries. Many of Johnson Matthey's products have a major beneficial impact on the environment and are sold around the world to a wide range of advanced technology industries.

A position has arisen within their central finance team. As the corporate accounting manager you will report to the group reporting controller and:

- Lead, manage and develop the head office accounts team
- Forge relationships with the group finance director as well as various divisional finance directors, the treasury team and head office managers
- Take ownership for the head office half-year and annual financial packs, monthly management accounts, and the control and production of the corporate budget summary, which involves close liaison with various departments

The successful candidate will be a qualified accountant, preferably Chartered with first time passes and at least 2 years' PQE. You will be confident and analytical with great attention to detail.

Excellent communication and management skills are essential, and a working knowledge of IFRS is preferred, along with exposure to the Treasury accounting. If you have the necessary skills and experience, please apply to the details below.
